

CNY Orange Alumni Club invites you to join us for a weekend at the Minnowbrook Adirondack Great Camp
August 3-5, 2018

Join fellow alumni and friends, including our guest speaker, Shiu-Kai Chin, for a special weekend event at SU's Minnowbrook Great Camp.

Program:

Through technology, we can send images and messages to anyone and everyone. With a swipe of a card or a few clicks on a keyboard, we can transfer hundreds of millions of dollars around the world in an instant. Our access to information and our ability to manipulate things remotely is both convenient and disconcerting. The more interconnected we are to each other, the more access and control we have over information and things, yet the more we feel threatened, distrustful, manipulated and isolated. Global interconnectedness and access is causing us to rethink trust, integrity, and security. Who do we trust and why do we trust them? How do we know if actions affecting us are authentic and authorized? Who has access, who does not, and why?

Professor Shiu-Kai Chin Shiu-Kai Chin is a graduate of SU. He is a professor of Electrical Engineering and Computer Science in Syracuse's College of Engineering and Computer Science where his research and teaching focuses on the logic of trustworthy systems and mission assurance. Both the financial services industry and the Department of Defense support and use his research. He is also an Adirondack Forty-Sixer (he's climbed all 46 of the Adirondack High Peaks!).
